Kodak finishing. Trio studio. Teachers' Examinations—Supt. W. N. Peterson of the Weber county schools will conduct an examination of county teachers, August 5, 6 and 7. As about two-thirds hold licenses which do not expire at this time, that number of the county teachers will not take the examinations.

Advertisers must have their copy ready for the Evening Standard the evening before the day on which the advertisement is to appear in order to insure publication.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will leave for a trip to the coast in a few days.

Careless Shooting—Careless gunners gave H. F. Nelson, of 523 Chester street, a narrow escape from injury yesterday afternoon when a bullet from one of the hunters' gun, who have been terrorizing the neighborhood, grazed his forehead as he was working in the orchard of his home. Two bullets came in his direction, one of which scratched his head. Although a committee of indignant neighbors scoured the country in the vicinity of Nelson's residence, the careless marksmen could not be located.

POLICE CALLED TO AID A WOMAN

In response to a call from the Troy laundry, at 8 o'clock this morning, Sergt. E. C. Peterson went to Wall avenue and found an Italian woman suffering severely while her husband was thoroughly alarmed. The sergeant had the woman taken to the county jail from where she was taken to the hospital. Dr. A. A. Robinson diagnosed the case as kidney stone and gave her treatment. The names given were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Tarmilali.

Although neither could speak English, they managed to explain that they were on their way from Sacramento to Chicago when the wife was taken with pains near Ogden. When the train stopped here, they walked around, believing the trouble would vanish. Instead, the pains grew worse and the woman was compelled to lie down near the Troy laundry. Employees from the laundry did all that was possible to make her comfortable until the arrival of the patrol wagon.

Dr. Robinson stated this afternoon that the woman will be able to continue her journey tomorrow morning.

PHOTOGRAPHS FOR A NEW BOOKLET

E. E. Shiveley of Omaha, advertising writer for the Union Pacific and A. A. Stark of St. Louis, a railroad photographer, are in the city securing photographs and material for new booklets to be issued by the Union Pacific company. The two will be in this vicinity until Sunday night.

Today they were in the canyon, where several photographs were taken for illustrations. Other photographs will be taken and Mr. Shiveley is gathering facts concerning Ogden for the reading matter to go with the illustrations. Weber canyon, between Ogden and Devil's Slide, is to be visited and featured in railroad advertising.

OGDEN OFFICE SPECULATION NOW HAS A MORGUE AS TO THE TAX RATE

The local postoffice has been made the depository for material from discontinued offices in Utah, Nevada, Idaho and Wyoming and already a large number of records as well as several boxes of stock, such as stamps and salable material, have been received here.

Postmaster Shurtliff has had fitted up one of the upstairs rooms, shelves for the material that cannot be sold here but must be held for the department. The room has been divided into sections and each discontinued office is represented by one of the divisions.

DUGWAY IS TO BE IMPROVED BY CITY

Manager S. T. Whitaker of the Utah Light & Railway company states that the construction crew will have the transmission line from the Ogden Canyon sanitarium grounds to the city rock crusher back of the city reservoirs in position and that current for the operation of the plant will be ready for use by Monday morning.

Commissioner J. C. Nye, superintendent of streets, states that it is now certain that the rock crusher will be running by Tuesday morning.

The first work to be done will be on the canyon road from the sanitarium ruins to Twenty-first street, over the dugway leading from the river bottom. A twelve-foot road surface will be made equal to the boulevard through the canyon and the road south of the dugway, leading into the city, will be placed in the best of condition.

Considerable money has been spent grading the road from the dugway to the head of Twenty-first street, but it is so cut up at this time that many complaints are being made by travelers. With a macadam surface, it is said, the road will be among the best in the state and, inasmuch as it gives a commanding view of the city and valley, it should be the most popular and highly appreciated highway in the country.

As soon as the canyon roadway into the city is surfaced, Commissioner Nye states that it is the desire of the street department to give the Riverside road from Washington avenue and Thirty-fifth street a macadam surface.

Both this stretch of road and the rugged canyon road form a part of the state highway from the border of Davis county to that of Rich county and the improvement is intended to not only make a better street thoroughfare for the city, but also to perfect a good road on the state highway offering inducement for more travel.

Mr. Nye gives the assurance that other streets will receive attention as soon as it is possible to reach them. The streets and avenues of the city cannot all be improved and resurfaced at one time, the commissioner says, but with the aid of the rock crusher and a heavy steam roller, more rapid progress than heretofore can be made in street building.

FRUIT OUTLOOK REPORTED GOOD

W. C. Michael, representative of the Gibson Fruit company of Chicago, spent a short time in the city today on his way to California looking over the fruit situation. He conferred with Manager J. M. White of the Utah Fruit exchange.

Mr. Michael states that prospects are much better for the fruit grower this year than last season and that nothing but a slump in the fruit market or in money affairs will prevent a good business.

CHANGES BEING MADE AT THE GRANT

So many changes have been made in the Grant school building since the improvement and extension work began, that the old students of the school will not recognize the place, according to Supt. J. M. Mills. Walls have been torn out and built up and the stairways have been changed. While the work is about two weeks behind what it should be at this time, the contractors have assured the superintendent that the remodeling will be completed in ample time for the opening of school in September.

Although the board has not officially considered the remodeling of the city hall attic into school board offices, it is understood that such change will be made. Following the visit of the board members, the superintendent and Leslie Hodgson, the architect, to the third story several weeks ago, the architect was asked to prepare plans. It is proposed to go over the plans at the next meeting of the board when the matter will be taken up.

CONFERENCE OF WEBER STAKE

The quarterly conference of the Weber stake will be held next Sunday at the Tabernacle. Elder Heber J. Grant of the quorum of the Twelve Apostles and President Hulton S. Wells of the First Council of Seventy, will be present to address the people. Meetings will be held at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m.

The time for fixing the rate of taxation by the city, county and state, is drawing near the time fixed when the governing boards shall be prepared to state to the people what percentage of their earnings shall be used to defray governmental expenses.

According to statements from the equalization boards, both county and state property valuations have increased and the average taxpayer naturally concludes that the rate of taxation should be correspondingly reduced. Officials, having in hand the matter of determining the rate of taxation, say, however, that that will not be the case, and that in some instances the rate may be even higher than last year.

The county commissioners will not be able to fix the rate for Weber county until after certain special road elections are held, the last one of which will be at Eden, July 29. Neither can the city board of commissioners decide on its rate of taxation this year until after the water bonds election shall have been held, which will be July 28. The city is required by law to have its tax rate fixed not later than July 31, but the county and state have a little more time to make their computations.

The city rate last year was fourteen mills, which include 2 mills for waterworks, but Mayor Fell says that it will likely be reduced to 12 mills, if the bond election is carried. If the people vote against the bonding of the city for building the South Fork reservoir, the tax rate will necessarily be increased to about 18 mills.

The tax rate last year was 7.5 mills for the state, the county 7.3, Ogden City 14 mills and the Ogden City schools 8.3 mills making a total of 37.6 mills, the rate in the county, outside the city, for state, county and schools being 23.6 mills. Information from the state capital is to the effect that the state rate will be about the same this year and it is said by Weber county officials that, if the special road-tax election raise a reasonable fund for road building, the rate in the county this year will not exceed that of last year.

JUDGE HARRIS ARRANGES FOR HIS TRIP

Judge Nathan J. Harris this morning held a session of his division of the district court, during which he stated to the members of the bar that he would hold another session a week from today, before leaving for the coast for a vacation until the first week of September. The judge expected to leave earlier but concluded to remain until a week from tomorrow.

Having conferred with members of the bar and they being of the opinion that it would be well to defer settling cases for the September term until his return home, the judge stated that that would be done.

He will resume the hearing of the Schade Brothers case against the Ogden Overall & Shirt company and consider the criminal calendar in the early part of September, the probability being that the regular September calendar will not be reached earlier than September 15. In the meantime, however, Judge Harris may hear some of the cases, as Judge Harris stated that he would have no objection, if counsel should agree to the same.

Following is the calendar for the September term:

State of Utah vs. A. W. Shields; unlawful selling of cocaine; the Ogden Overall & Shirt Co. et al. vs. C. F. Schade, et al. vs. Ogden Overall & Shirt Co. et al. law. Continued to September 8.

OFFENDERS ARE SENTENCED BY COURT

After listening to the testimony of five defendants and three witnesses in the case of the city against the negro and wedding guests, charged with disturbing the peace Wednesday night, the court was almost as much in the dark, regarding the origin of the fight, as he was at the beginning of the trial. None of the witnesses appeared to know all the facts of the case.

The defendants were B. W. Matthews, a negro, and four white men, E. H. Garland, Ray Branting, Walter Gale and M. Krumpnerman. Matthews was given a sentence of 25 days or $25. Garland and Branting were given sentences of seven days or $7. Walter Gale was given the opportunity of serving three days or paying a fine of $3 and Krumpnerman was discharged. It developed that Krumpnerman, in the role of peacemaker, came out with the greater injuries.

Ida Matthews, the wife of the negro, testified that she was coming home from a picture show about 11 o'clock that night and was walking back of the guests to the Field wedding. She said that one of the men turned and asked why that negro woman was following them. Other words followed, until Mrs. Matthews ran to her home and complained to her husband. Her husband, she said, rushed from the house with an unloaded shotgun and a free-for-all fight resulted.

From the others, it developed that the party was a jolly one and the guests were returning from a coffee house where they had gone to get some beer when the trouble resulted. Judge Reeder held that the negro did wrong in using a shotgun as a weapon in the fight.

Harry Donnelly and John Murphy, two men charged with drunkenness, were sentenced to serve five days each by Judge Reeder this morning. The two were among the six prisoners who went on strike at the city jail on Tuesday.

WRECK ARE RECOVERED

H. A. Simms received a telegram from G. M. Faught, general manager of the North American Motion Picture company to the effect that the reels of motion pictures, taken in Ogden, including the section showing the wreck in the canyon, have been finished in Denver and will be expressed to reach Ogden Sunday. The pictures will be shown in the Globe theater, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

Following the departure of H. E. Smith, the motion picture operator and developer, from Ogden a week ago with the section of film depicting the scenes after the wreck in the canyon, Faught was left in Ogden alone. As he is not a finisher, he took the undeveloped film to the headquarters in Denver and had it developed. Smith was located a few days ago by Faught and the film he had taken was recovered.

Following the exhibition of the pictures in Ogden, the local picture show people will send the reels east to be exhibited in theaters there for the advertisement of this city.

"A WILD RIDE"

A MOVING NOVELTY. Something absolutely new in moving picture playcraft is the latest South African novelty release of the Selig Polyscope Co., entitled "A Wild Ride." In this new red-blooded drama of the African wilds, an English girl, the heroine of the adventure, is trapped with her parents in a lone farm house by frenzied Zulus led by a cunning half-breed more crafty and cunning than his savage followers. The savages drive off all the live stock to be sure that the family have no means of escape, and then start a siege. The girl escapes from the house, makes her way to the ostrich pen, and getting on the back of the bird, goes on the wings of the wind across the pathless desert to an English army station. She gets the military back to the lonely farm in time to thwart the savages and avert the final tragedy.

This sensational and novel drama is now being shown at the Isis theater for the remainder of the week, closing Sunday night.

Other good features in the Photoplay Theaters this week are Lubin's special picture of the "Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg," "Edison's 'The Statue of Liberty,'" in two parts, and Selig's "Old Doc Yak," animated cartoons of Sydney Smith's Chicago Tribune's comic supplement characters. All at the Globe.

At the Oracle the Biograph is featuring Miss Blanche Sweet in their beautiful drama, "The Mistake." In this same program is a very interesting picture on the "Porcelain Industry," and Kalem's very funny comedy, "Entertaining Uncle." These programs will be on the balance of this week, closing Sunday night. Ten cents children, 5 cents. Matinee Saturday.

RETAIL LIQUOR LICENSE NOT GRANTED

Sitting en banc this morning, Judges James A. Howell and Nathan J. Harris of the district court denied the application of John Brunetti for a retail liquor license.

The district judges are not required to give a reason for either denying or granting a liquor license in the city, but from the line of examination of the applicant it was quite readily concluded that past violations of the liquor laws were the main reasons for denying the application.

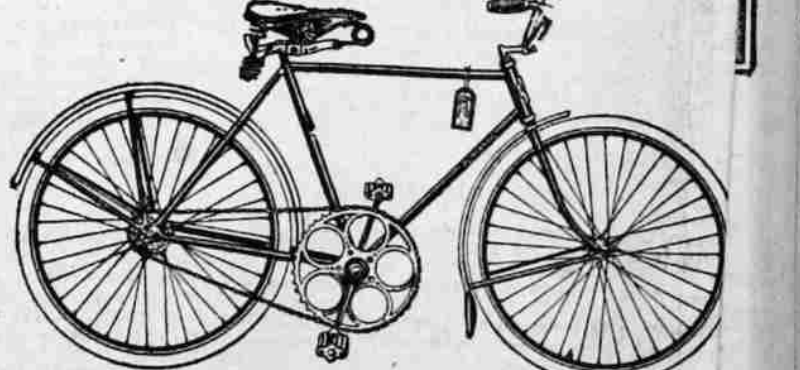

It was brought out that arrests had formerly been made at the place, which is the Central rooming house, and that also trouble of quite a serious nature occurred, requiring the services of the police department.

Until the elimination process of about two years ago, the Central bar was conducted by Ed Maguire. To have granted the license would also have increased the number of saloons beyond the provisions of the city ordinances.

BIDS OPENED ON THE PARRY BUILDING

Bids from contractors for the reconstruction of the Parry building, which was destroyed by fire months ago, have been opened but the contract has not yet been awarded. The lowest general contract was submitted by C. J. Humphris who asked $28,547. Other bids were received for the masonry and concrete work done, the carpenter work alone and the plumbing.

It will be a few days before the contract is awarded.
